While children in America are attending their comfortable public schools, young Russians cannot have similar agreeable comforts even if the recent official report about the school system in Russia did conceal a part of that system's worst aspects. A general reorganization of the public instruction was ordered a few months ago by the imperial government, and numerous commissions of inquest have been instituted. Their work of investigation was relatively easy when it referred to schools situated in towns, but it became very difficult when information had to be collected about the schools in the country. No official was anxious to proceed to school and the country of the country. No official was anxious to proceed to school and the country of the co While children in America are attendthe country. No official was anxious to proceed to villages lost in the steppes, the forests or the swamps. Still, some persons especially M. Ponomareff, inpector of primary schools, have under-aken journeys more fatiguing than explorations in Thibet or Patagonia.

The report of M. Ponomareff in effect is happier than the male teacher, and the latter happier than the female teacher. The moujik considers the teacher a man who lives out at his expense, and he pays him less than the shepherd. When snow has fallen and it that plece or parcel of land situate in Nienie, Honokaa, Hamakua, Island of Hawaii, containing an area of one-half an acre, conveyed to said J. K. Kaunamano by deed of S. Parker, dated October 3rd, 1883, and recorded in the Register Office. Oabu in line 22 shepherd. When snow has fallen and the boys are without anything to do, being unable on account of the winter to be of help to their parents, the latter thing of their education. An "outchietl," or schoolmaster is hired by the villagers, who agree to feed and to pay him. The price varies from 10 to 50 rubles ($9 to $40) for the whole winter, which is very long in Russia. As to the rubles ($9 to $40) for the whole winter, which is very long in Russia. As to the food, it is not so good as that of the shepherd; each family whose children frequent the school feeds in its turn the schoolmaster. The school building is a miserable hut, often contiguous to the house of the moujik, where pigs, hens and cows are fed twice a day. It is the business of the teacher to keep his school clean, says M. Ponomareff in his official report, There is no ventilation; at the approach of the cold weather all windows are hermetically closed with clay or glazier's putty. The moujik cannot understand that anybusiness of the teacher to keep his school clean, says M. Ponomareff in his official report. There is no ventilation; at the approach of the cold weather all windows are hermetically closed with clay or glazier's putty. The moujik cannot understand that anything should be opened in winter time. In regard to the heating, it is quite primitive. Each scholar is bound to bring some pieces of wood to heat the bring some pieces of wood to heat the veyed to said J. K. Kaunamano by bring some pieces of wood to heat the school. When it is freezing too hard the pupils do not come and the teacher being compelled to remain until the evening, envelops himself in his tou-loupe, or sheepskin, and stays motiona corner of the "khata," or school hut.

Such is the custom of poor villages. In the rich villages the schoolmaster, instead of being a martyr, becomes a tyrant. He strikes the pupils brutally, tears off their ears and pulls their hair tears off their ears and pulls their hair darks their teeth, for he is almost continually drunk. The official report deed of Wong Ah Yung, dated November Strikes and recorded in waid of the strikes and recorded in the strikes are the strikes and recorded in the strikes are the strikes and recorded in the strikes are the strikes are the strikes are the strikes and recorded in the strikes are the s continually drunk. The official report instances many cases in which children were violently thrown on the ground and bruised by the teacher's feet to such a point that blood gushed out from their noses and mouths. But what is most extraordinary, says M. Ponomareff, is that those queer school-masters intrust the task of teaching to the best scholars. These are called "the first group," or "the professors," and they are not above eight or ten years of age. While they to teach their little comrades the choolmaster sits little comrades the choolmaster sits down to drink in the cat "kabako."

The St. Petersburg correspondence which gives this summary of M. Ponomareff's report says that on receiving it the minister of public instruction sent numerous commissioners to run over, incognito, every part of Russia at the
